We need a school board that puts children first.

Ashley Paz wants for all children what she wants for her own. A top quality education and strong neighborhood schools.

As a mother of two young children, one of whom will be attending De Zavala Elementary in the fall, Ashley Paz knows about the concerns parents have sending their kids to our public schools. Ashley entered her daughters name into the lottery for FWISD's Schools of Choice program, but she was not selected.

"At first I was disappointed. But as I thought about it, I realized the answer is not for parents to have to try their luck to get their kids into a high performing school. The answer is to raise the level of performance of all our schools. That's why I'm going to send my children to our neighborhood school, De Zavala Elementary."

Fort Worth is a great city and a great place to raise a family. There is no reason we shouldn't have a great school system. Working together, we can!
